Protecting Vines and Plants. At this season of the year every one who has a kitchen garden are troubled more or less with the ravages of worms, bugs, and insects of various kinds, and all are anxious to get rid of them. A millither of temedica have been given and some of them appear to be effectual in one garden, while in another they are of no advantage, and the reason of this is, that what will kill or drive away one species of bugs will not disturb another. The great object should be for wich me to use such Looking Glasses! remidies as are faul to the losetts infesting their own plants, and by a little experiment this may be determined. Strong somp suds sprinkled apon slees i a good protection against the black goat, around the hills and between the vines, or strips of paper immersed in roal far and laid plentifully on the ground between the plants, will drive out the striped bug. The turnip fly is expelled by speinkling on slacked lime, or soot upon the plants while the dew is on, and repeating as often as they appear. Worms and many kinds of bugs are expelled by the use of yellow abuilt.

During the heat of the day most of the insects are retired beneath the leaves o plants and vines, and come out at night o morning to regale themselves. To prevent this saturate tulis of grass or small sods the offensive odor will be likely to keep them away from the vines entirely. The squash hug begins work upon the vines almost as soon as they put forth, and take shelter under the leaves where eggs are laid, and their number is dreadfully multiplied. The eggs can be plainly seen in little bunches, and may by careful examination be nearly all destroyed before hatching, and while going through the Front St, vines for this purpose many of the bogs are killed. Gas tar is quite effectual in driving them out.

Major Carter candidate for Congres in the VIIth District of Indiana, was speaking to the people of Clay County, when a Democrat asked him to defend the unequal bearing of the income tax on farmers, laborers, and others. He answered by a statement showing that but a single farmer in the county paid income tax; but that being under Democratic rule, the county taxes were from 50 to 100 per cent heavier Close's New Block, Grogham Street, than they are in the Republican Counties. The same thing is said to be true in every part of Indianna; the Democratic counties all pay the heaviest local taxes. It is true, also, of the principal counties of this State.

Sunset Cox has discovered a new claim of the Democratic party to the support of the people-as being the great religious party of the day. He claimed, in his last speech, that "the Democratic party was the one which had in it the principle of Jesus Christ -the law of kindness; it was the party of magnanimity and forbearance. There was but one Christain sentiment in the country to-day, and that was to be found incarnate in the Democaat'c party."
